

Sacristan Report 2020

Sadly our Sacristan, Rose, passed away before we were able to hold the APCM this year.

Each year she would say that she had nothing new to add to her reports, so in that spirit here is her report from last year

“Another year has passed and everything has gone well, with no problems.

Thank you to Arthur for letting me carry on doing my work. Thank you also to Sheelagh for getting the wine when needed, and thank you to Amanda for getting everything else I need to do my work.

We look forward to coming to church on Sundays to prepare the altar for Holy Communion. After the service Annette washes the chalices while I take everything back to the vestry to sort out for next week.

As well as the Bread and wine we also have non-alcoholic wine and also gluten free wafers.

It is a lovely feeling when we walk into the Church on a Sunday morning to do our work setting up for Communion.

It is a blessing to come in every Sunday to carry on with everything I do, and a pleasure to serve as Sacristans and we are looking forward toward to the next year. I hope we have just as good a year and everything continues to run as smoothly. We feel very privileged.”
